TEACHING AND LEARNING POLICY

This policy relates to all sections and activities of the school and its pupils, e.g. the Senior School, the Junior School (including EYFS), Wrap Around Care, Offsite Activities and School run Holiday Activities or Clubs.

This document is a statement of the aims, principles and strategies for teaching and learning at Red House School. It lays the foundations for the whole curriculum, both formal and informal, and forms the context in which all other policy statements should be read.

1 WHAT IS TEACHING AND LEARNING?

1.1 Teaching and learning is the purpose of our school. It is the method through which we offer a curriculum which is broad and balanced, allowing pupils' opportunities to develop and fulfil their potential in all areas of school life, in preparation for the next stage of their education and later life in general.

2 AIMS OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

2.1 Our aims at Red House School are to maximise the learning opportunities for all pupils and to ensure the highest quality of teaching throughout the School. We aim to encourage better teaching practice and continuous professional development among our staff; we want to ensure the highest quality of learning experiences, whilst reducing any obstacle to learning.

2.2 Class teachers (Junior School) and subject teachers (Senior School) have a responsibility to monitor and evaluate learning and undertake some measure of self-evaluation to continue to develop professionally. It is the responsibility of the Key Stage Coordinator (Junior School) and Heads of Department (Senior School) to monitor teaching and learning across their subject.

2.3 Excellence in learning and teaching may be achieved in a range of ways, including professional conversations, discussions during departmental meetings, lesson observation and scrutiny of pupils' work.

2.4 The Assistant Head Academic) and the Head of the Junior School have overall responsibility for the quality of teaching and learning across their phase. Quality teaching is identified as including:

- Mastery of subject knowledge.
- Effective planning with clear success criteria, differentiated to suit the needs and abilities of all pupils.
- Development and challenge for more able and gifted and talented (MAGT).
- Effective use of lesson time.
- High standards of behaviour.
- Making effective use of classroom support, such as teaching assistants, as appropriate.
- Making effective use of assessments and feedback to help pupils to progress. Please refer to the Marking and Feedback Policy and the Assessment, Tracking and Reporting Policy.
- Effective use of homework (refer to Homework Policy for full details).
- Promoting equality, diversity and inclusivity. Please refer to the School's Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy.

2.5 Effective learning includes:

- Pupils gaining new knowledge and making sustained progress.
- Pupils engaging in lessons and being willing to try new things.
- Ability of pupils to apply their learning in different contexts.
- Pupils working independently and with resilience.

3 PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

3.1 We see teaching and learning as a process of cooperative teamwork and welcome and encourage the involvement of parents, as appropriate.

3.2 All members of the school community (teaching and non-teaching staff, parents and pupils) work towards the School's aims by:

- Recognising pupils as individuals and respecting their rights, values and beliefs.

- Offering equal opportunities in all aspects of School life and recognising the importance of different cultures. The School also promotes inclusion and diversity, this includes awareness of and active inclusion of gender awareness and sexual diversity in all areas of teaching and age ranges.
- Fostering and promoting good relationships and a sense of belonging to the school community.
- Providing a well-ordered environment in which all are fully aware of behavioural expectations.
- Offering equal opportunities in all aspects of School life and recognising the importance of different cultures.
- Encouraging, praising and positively reinforcing good relationships, behaviour and work.
- Working as a team, supporting and encouraging one another.

3.3 The emphasis of our Teaching and Learning Policy is on a variety of teaching styles/experiences and we encourage pupils increasingly to take control of their own learning. Thus:

- Investigative/practical/group work is encouraged.
- Pupils are encouraged to communicate their findings in a variety of ways.
- Opportunities are provided for pupils to become involved in decision making to encourage independent learning.
- Study skills are encouraged to consolidate and reinforce an effective learning environment.

3.4.1 Pupil work across all phases is celebrated, wherein:

- Sustained effort to improve presentation, including, drafting and reworking is encouraged to enhance standards.
- School events, such as, concerts, weekly Star and Good Work assemblies (Junior School), weekly Merit and Celebration assemblies (Senior School), the annual Festivals of Achievement (Junior School), the annual Prize Giving (Senior School), drama and sport are seen as opportunities for all pupils (not just the most gifted) to demonstrate and fulfil their potential (this list is not exhaustive).
- Pupils are encouraged to believe that any exhibited work (performance or display) should represent their highest standards of personal achievement.

4 SUPPORT FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING
4.1 In the Senior School, staff are able to share good practice during departmental meetings and at the termly Academic Meeting. Departmental meetings should take place at least once every three weeks and minutes should be forwarded to the Assistant Head (Academic). For staff in single member departments, they should join a larger department to discuss their ideas. Staff in the Senior School also attend weekly staff briefing meetings on Tuesdays from 8.10am.

4.2 In the Junior School, staff are able to share best practice and teaching and learning ideas in the weekly Junior School Staff meetings on Mondays at 4.15pm. In these meetings, class teachers meet with Junior School Leadership Team (JSLT), the whole-school SENCo, and the Head to discuss pupil progress and how teachers can be best supported to meet the needs of the children in their class. In addition, in each staff meeting, there will be a focus e.g. Maths, Literacy, ICT, MAGT, etc.

4.3 There is a budget for CPD and staff across the schools are encouraged to take advantages of the professional opportunities afforded them. More details of a CPD training programme directory are contained in Appendix 7. In Appendix 8, please see CPD Request Form.

4.4 Within the School, INSET days usually run with a teaching and learning element, so that teaching staff are able to develop pedagogy and utilise current research-led techniques.

4.5 As part of the performance management process, colleagues are able to observe peers and be observed by a peer to develop techniques and encourage best practice.

4.6 Each member of the teaching staff and Head of Department has a member of the Senior Management Team (SMT) as their performance management line manager and they meet at least twice a year.

4.7 Staff in the Junior School and the Senior School are also encouraged to access CPD.

5 TEACHER STATEMENT OF DUTIES – EYFS
5.1 The four overarching guiding principles which should shape the daily practice of EYFS Practitioners are:

- Every child is a unique child, who is constantly learning and can be resilient, capable, confident and self-assured.
- Children learn to be strong and independent through positive relationships.
- Children learn and develop well in enabling environments, in which their experiences respond to their individual needs and there is a strong partnership between practitioners and parents.
- Children develop and learn in different ways and at different rates, including children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

5.2 EYFS practitioners must consider the individual needs, interests, and stage of development of each child in their care, and must use this information to plan a challenging and enjoyable experience for each child in all of the areas of learning and development.

5.3   The EYFS learning and development requirements comprise of seven areas of learning and development which lead to the Early Learning Goals:

Three prime areas
- Communication and Language
- Physical Development
- Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Four specific areas
- Literacy
- Mathematics
- Understanding the World
- Expressive arts and design

5.4   Practitioners working with the youngest children are expected to focus strongly on the three prime areas, which are the basis for successful learning in the other four specific areas. The three prime areas reflect the key skills and capacities all children need to develop and learn effectively, and become ready for school. It is expected that the balance will shift towards a more equal focus on all areas of learning as children grow in confidence and ability within the three prime areas.

5.5   Each area of learning and development must be implemented through planned, purposeful play and through a mix of adult-led and child-initiated activity. Play is essential for children's development, building their confidence as they learn to explore, to think about problems, and relate to others. Children learn by leading their own play, and by taking part in play which is guided by adults. There is an ongoing judgement to be made by practitioners about the balance between activities led by children, and activities led or guided by adults.

5.6   Practitioners must respond to each child's emerging needs and interests, guiding their development through warm, positive interaction. As children grow older, and as their development allows, it is expected that the balance will gradually shift towards more activities led by adults, to help children prepare for more formal learning, ready for Year 1. Activities should reflect pupil interests and also reflect the culture and diversity of the world around them, including positive representation of race, gender and varied family structures, including same sex families.

5.7   In planning and guiding children's activities, EYFS Practitioners must reflect on the different ways that children learn and reflect these in their practice. Three characteristics of effective teaching and learning are:

- Playing and exploring - children investigate and experience things, and 'have a go'.
- Active learning - children concentrate and keep on trying if they encounter difficulties, and enjoy achievements.
- Creating and thinking critically - children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas, and develop strategies for doing things.

5.8   EYFS Practitioners work in teams to plan and therefore must work closely with the other members of their direct teams to ensure the planning is detailed enough that another practitioner could enhance provisional areas and/or deliver a planned activity should this be required.

5.9   Planning must reflect the needs of all children, including those with SEND, pupils who are more able, gifted and talented (MAGT), and pupils whose first language is not English (EAL). The planning cycle must be clear including next steps for children's learning and development.

5.10 All EYFS teaching should take place within the Red House School site. Any off-site visits must be agreed by the Head of the Junior School. Staff should be mindful of the staff/child ratios required to take children off site or when accessing other areas of the Red House site.

5.11 Children in EYFS should not be left unsupervised at any time.

6   TEACHER STATEMENT OF DUTIES – JUNIOR SCHOOL
6.1   All teachers are responsible for planning and preparing courses and lessons with accompanying lesson plans and work schemes. Teachers should work alongside other members of staff and year teams and Key Stage Coordinators to ensure that schemes of work are detailed enough in order to allow a supply teacher to deliver the lessons if required. Schemes of work and lesson plans should meet the needs of all pupils including those with SEND, MAGT pupils, and pupils whose first language is not English (EAL).

6.2   Teaching should reflect cultural diversity, it should show positive and age appropriate representation of race, gender and sexuality. It should promote diverse family backgrounds including same sex parents and mixed cultural background.

6.3   A full-time teacher in the Junior School at Red House will be required to teach a full timetable. Part-time teachers will be required to teach a proportion of the timetable, as agreed with the individual before the start of the academic year. A proportion of non-contact time will be allocated to reflect the age of pupils being taught and the method of teaching which is appropriate for the relevant age group.

6.4 All teachers are expected to teach the pupils assigned to them, including the setting and marking of work carried out by the pupil in school and elsewhere. The individual educational needs of each pupil should be addressed.

6.5 All teachers are required to assess their pupils (written and oral), and record and report on the development, progress and attainment of pupils, in each case having regard to the curriculum of the School and following the School's Marking and Feedback Policy and Assessment, Tracking and Reporting Policy.

6.6 All full-time teachers are expected to be in school from 8:15am-4:00pm. Requests to leave the School site during this time, or for an early departure from school at the end of the school day, should be made in advance to the Head of the Junior School. If teachers are to be late to school, they should inform the Head of the Junior School before the start of the School Day. If teachers are unwell and unable to come into school, then they should follow the School's Absence Management Policy.

6.7 All teaching should take place within the designated teaching areas within the School Buildings (exception for PE/Games), or with permission to be outside. Pupils should not be left unsupervised at any time.

7   TEACHER STATEMENT OF DUTIES – SENIOR SCHOOL

7.1 All teachers are responsible for planning and preparing courses and lessons with accompanying lesson plans and work schemes. Teachers should work alongside other members of staff in their departments to ensure that schemes of work are detailed enough in order to allow a supply teacher to deliver the lessons if required. Schemes of work and lesson plans should meet the needs of all pupils including those with SEND, MAGT pupils, and pupils whose first language is not English.

7.2 Teaching should reflect cultural diversity, it should show positive and age appropriate representation of race, gender and sexuality. It should promote diverse family backgrounds including same sex parents and mixed cultural background.

7.3 A full-time teacher without departmental or leadership responsibilities will usually be required to teach 23 periods a week. Part-time teachers will be required to teach a proportion of the timetable, as agreed with the individual before the start of the academic year; these periods may vary from year to year in response to the requirements of the timetable.

7.4 All teachers are expected to teach the pupils assigned to them, including the setting and marking of work carried out by the pupil in school and elsewhere. The individual educational needs of each pupil should be addressed.

7.5 All teachers are required to assess their pupils (written and oral), and record and report on the development, progress and attainment of pupils, in each case having regard to the curriculum of the School and following the School's Marking and Feedback Policy and the Assessment, Tracking and Reporting Policy. Teachers will be required to provide assessments and references relating to individual pupils and groups of pupils, for example, in the post-16 application process.

7.6 All full-time teachers are expected to be in school from 8:15am-4:15pm (8:10am on Tuesdays for Staff Briefing). Teachers are also expected to attend Monday staff meetings when appropriate to their role, lead and/or participate in a co-curricular activity, attend Open Mornings and Twilight Tours and Parent-Teacher Consultation Evenings. Requests to leave the school site during this time, or for an early departure from school at the end of the school day, should be made in advance to the Assistant Head (Operations) and the line manager of the member of staff in accordance with School's Absence Management Policy. If teachers are to be late to school then they should inform the Assistant Head (Operations) before the start of the School Day in accordance with School's Absence Management Policy. If teachers are unwell and unable to come into school then they should follow the School's Absence Management Policy.

7.7 All teaching should take place within the designated teaching areas within the School Buildings (exception for PE/Games), or with permission to be outside. Pupils should not be left unsupervised during lesson times, unless prior permission has been sought from a member of the Senior Management Team in the Senior School.

7.8 Teachers will receive an agreed non-contact time allowance. This is clearly defined in their individual terms and conditions.

8   MONITORING OF TEACHING AND LEARNING

8.1.1 At Red House, we believe in achieving academic excellence through a commitment to individual attention and nurturing each child's full potential. We seek to ensure high-quality learning experiences that are motivating and meaningful for all children through an enriching and flexible learning environment informed by a broad and rounded curriculum. We are committed to raising standards, establishing high expectations, and promoting high-quality and effective learning and teaching.

8.1.2 Fundamental to achieving academic excellence and ensuring high-quality, effective learning and teaching is our system of quality assurance that involves all members of the school community. Through a planned cycle of quality assurance activities, all aspects of learning and teaching are systematically and regularly reviewed.

8.1.3 Monitoring of teaching and learning is a means by which information is gathered. This is undertaken systematically across all areas of school through a range of activities. The effective use of monitoring helps to:

- Promote motivating, challenging and well-paced learning and teaching throughout the school that is well matched to learners' needs and interests.
- Support the development of eager and active learners, who are fully engaged, resilient, highly-motivated and interact well during activities.
- Enhance the use of skilled questioning and engagement to promote curiosity.
- Ensure that learners have opportunities to exercise choice, including appropriate use of digital technology, and develop increasing independence as they become more confident in their learning.
- Reinforce the development of learners' metacognition and higher-order thinking, which is supported by use of cognitive feedback, including peer assessment and self-assessment.
- Oversee the effective implementation of summative assessment to provide reliable evidence to report on progress.
- Support the close observation of learners to ensure appropriate and well-timed interventions and future learning pathways.
- Identify areas of strength and contribute to identification of professional development requirements.

8.1.4   Lesson observations:

- Lesson observations are carried out by JSLT and peer observation is part of the performance management process.
- Lesson observations give an opportunity to monitor learning through discussions with children and observing their work and behaviour in class. Please see Appendix 2 for the Junior School Lesson Observation Proforma.
- Areas of strength are identified during observations with colleagues encouraged to share their good practice with others.
- Areas for development may also be identified and staff are supported to undertake CPD (observing others, attending courses and professional reading) in order to develop further. See Appendix 7 for more details.
- Both class teachers and teaching assistants have annual performance management appraisals in order to ensure they are thriving professionally. Please refer to Appendix 3 for the Whole-School Teaching Assistant Lesson Observation Proforma.

8.1.5   Learning walks:

- The Head of the Junior School, the Assistant Head of the Junior School and Key Stage Coordinators completes learning walks to monitor the quality of teaching and learning and this, along with formal appraisals, provides a formal assessment of the standard of teaching and learning.
- The learning walks take place on a weekly basis, with the Head of the Junior School, the Assistant Head of the Junior School and Key Stage Coordinators conducting the learning walks on a rotational basis.
- The learning walks will be unannounced.
- A learning walk can involve visiting a number of lessons for short observations, usually 10 minutes and will have a specific focus, e.g. the progress of SEND pupils. Please refer to Appendix 4 for a Whole-School Learning Walks Evaluation Proforma.
- For learning walks there will be some formative feedback.

8.1.6   Work scrutiny:

- Key Stage Coordinators, with the support of the Head of the Junior School and Assistant Head of the Junior School undertake termly work scrutiny's to ensure that colleagues in the Junior School are following the School's Marking and Feedback Policy when assessing children's work.
- There should also be a subject/department focus to the work scrutiny e.g. use of mental strategies in Maths; evidence of literacy skills across the curriculum.
- This policy encourages a consistent approach for the children across the school, helping to maintain standards.
- The work scrutiny will have a different focus each time and may be a Key Stage work scrutiny or a whole Junior School work scrutiny. For example, English and Maths work scrutinies will take place regularly, with other subjects being on a rolling rotation.
- General feedback is shared with colleagues at a follow up staff meeting where whole school areas for development can be identified and an action plan can be agreed.
- Learning Journals kept by colleagues in the EYFS are also regularly scrutinised in order to ensure that planning and monitoring are appropriately child-centred and that targets are being achieved by children as expected.
- Please refer to Appendix 5 for the Whole-School Work Scrutiny Evaluation Proforma to complete.

8.1.7   Assessment

- Pupils in KS1 and KS2 completed a NGRT Reading assessment in September.

- Pupils in KS1 and KS2 complete termly assessments in Writing, Maths and Comprehension. These are then recorded on a tracker.
- Pupils in KS2 complete a statutory spelling assessment at the end of each academic year (these are completed three times a year at Red House in the Autumn, Spring and Summer terms).
- Pupils in Years 4-6 complete a termly multiplication check, which is added to the teacher's tracker.
- Pupils in Years 1-6 participate in a weekly Arithmetic test of the 4 operations (Twinkl).
- Pupils in Years 1-6 complete INCAS testing in February of each year.
- Termly summative assessments are carried out in Maths, Reading and SPaG. These results are recorded and monitored by the Head of the Junior School and Assistant Head of the Junior School to ensure that progress is being made and that interventions can be put in place for any children not achieving as expected.
- Ongoing formative assessments are used by class teachers to ensure that children are acquiring skills, retaining knowledge and achieving understanding.
- Staff in the EYFS keep detailed Learning Journals for the children in their care, ensuring that milestones and targets are being met as expected.

8.1.7 Moderation

- For Years 1-6, moderation in Writing and Maths takes place termly.
- For moderation meetings, it is the expectation that staff bring all pupil books across subjects to the meeting.

8.1.8 School improvement – how this data and evidence will be used

- To ensure the JSLT knows where strengths and challenges are within the teaching staff, to share good practice, to identify patterns and trends for EYFS and Key Stages and individual teachers.
- Good practice will be shared during informal conversations between colleagues, at INSET, during Key Stage and JSLT meetings, and at the weekly Junior School Staff Meeting.
- Individual support will be provided where necessary in line with HR policies and procedures.
- The focus of all monitoring is based around the two aims to ensure good progress and to support the professional development of teachers.

8.2 The Senior School (Year 7-11):
8.2.1 The aim of monitoring teaching and learning is twofold:

- To ensure progress in made by all pupils to the full extent of their ability.
- To ensure that teachers have the support and professional development they require to ensure this progress is made.

8.2.2 Red House School achieves excellent academic outcomes and, historically, residuals are positive when measured against MidYis scores.

8.2.3 Where individual or departmental areas of underperformance should occur, there is provision in place through the Assistant Head (Academic) and the wider SMT to provide individualised support.

8.2.4 Lesson observations:

- Teachers having a lesson observation will be given summative and formative feedback. Please see Appendix 1 for the Lesson Observation Proforma.
- Both teachers and teaching assistants have annual performance management appraisals in order to ensure they are thriving professionally. Please refer to Appendix 3 for the Whole-School Teaching Assistant Lesson Observation Proforma.

8.2.5 Learning walks:

- The Assistant Head (Academic) and other member of the SMT (the Head, Deputy Head and Head of the Senior School and the Assistant Head (Operations)) completes learning walks to monitor the quality of teaching and learning and this, along with formal appraisals, provides a formal assessment of the standard of teaching and learning.
- A learning walk can involve visiting a number of lessons for short observations, usually 10 minutes, to identify evidence of excellence, such as, those listed in the Learning Walk Proforma and/or may have an additional focus, such as, SEND pupils. Please refer to Appendix 4 for a Whole-School Learning Walks Evaluation Proforma.
- The learning walks take place on a half termly basis, with the Head, the Deputy Head and Head of the Senior School, the Assistant Head (Academic) and the Assistant Head (Operations) conducting the learning walks on a rotational basis.
- The learning walks will be unannounced.
- For learning walks there will be some formative feedback, a focus for the learning walks will usually be shared.

8.2.6 Work Scrutiny:

- Work scrutiny aims to monitor good progress being made and offer collegiate opportunities to further improve practice.
- Marking and feedback should be completed in line with the School's Marking and Feedback Policy but beyond this, there is no expectation that all staff mark in the same way.
- There should also be a focus to the work scrutiny, which is agreed by the Assistant Head (Academic).
- Departments have marking policies that should be consistently followed by teachers within the department.
- In order to monitor the effective use of marking and feedback, departments complete work scrutiny at six points throughout the academic year. Please refer to Appendix 5 for the Whole-School Work Scrutiny Evaluation to complete.
- In each of the three terms, the following pattern of work scrutinies take place:
  - First half term – a work scrutiny by the SMT, followed by an Academic Meeting.
  - Second half term – a Departmental meeting with an inbuilt work scrutiny.
- Findings are then shared with the Assistant Head (Academic) and actions are planned during this discussion.

8.2.7 School improvement – how this data and evidence will be used:

- To ensure the SMT knows where strengths and challenges are within the teaching staff, to share good practice, to identify patterns and trends for departments and individual teachers.
- Good practice will be shared during departmental meetings, Academic Meetings, and INSETs.
- Individual support will be provided where necessary in line with HR policies and procedures.
- The focus of all monitoring is based around the two aims to ensure good progress and to support the professional development of teachers.

9 CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AND EDUCATIONAL VISITS
9.1 At Red House co-curricular clubs and educational visits are valued as an important element in the teaching and learning process. Therefore:

- The school endeavours to provide a wide and varied range of co-curricular activities and educational visits. Please refer to the Co-Curricular Activities Policy and the Health and Safety – School Trips Policy.
- All pupils are encouraged to participate in the co-curricular clubs and activities, and educational visits offered.
- New and existing staff are involved in educational visits and co-curricular activities.

10 STRATEGIES FOR ENSURING PROGRESS AND CONTINUITY
10.1 PLANNING is a process in which all teachers are involved:

- Schemes of work for individual subjects/departments are developed and updated by subject teachers, Heads of Departments and subject coordinators outlining planned programmes of study which exhibit continuity and progression.
- Regular staff/Key Stage/Department/Academic/teacher meetings are held each term to discuss various aspects of the curriculum and to ensure best practice and continuity are observed.

10.2 FEEDBACK TO PUPILS about their progress is achieved through the marking of work which:

- Aims to help pupils in the learning process, with comments being positive and constructive.
- Is often done while a task is being carried out through discussion between pupil and teachers.
- Is done sensitively and with discretion so that a pupil can assimilate a limited number of corrections at one time - this will vary according to age and ability.

10.3 TARGET SETTING from Nursery to the end of Key Stages 2, 3 and 4 is used to monitor progress:

- By setting realistic and challenging targets which are based upon measured tests of potential and a pupil's prior attainment.
- Target threshold levels and national expectations are set to the end of Key Stage 2, and target GCSE grades generated by the MidYis baseline assessments in Years 7 and 9 are used for pupils in Key Stages 3 and 4.

10.4 THE LIBRARIES in the Junior School and the Senior School are valued resources:

1. They are used by class/subject teachers during lesson time when appropriate.
2. They are available for pupils at the Senior School to use on a rota basis during lunchtime.
3. Pupils are allowed to borrow books for specific periods of time.
4. Pupils may use the School's ChromeBooks in the Library.
5. Non-fiction books are available in the Junior School ICT suite. Please refer to Appendix 6 for Library Procedures for both sites.

1.5.5   Fiction books are grouped using a colour code:

- Red: Suitable for Years 7 – 11
- Blue: Suitable for Years 6 - 7

1.5.6   The placing of a book in either section is decided by the School's Librarian.

1.5.7   In each case the books on the shelf are in alphabetical order according to the author's surname.

1.5.8   Non-fiction books are displayed using the Dewey Decimal.

1.6   BOOK BORROWING

- Books are borrowed using the Junior Librarian system – all books have a bar code inside the front cover, and each pupil is given a library number.

1.7 USE OF LIBRARY
- Pupils from the Senior School, Years 9–11, may use the library for quiet study and reading from 1pm – 1.30 pm. Quiet study places are on a 'first come first served' basis.
- Pupils in Years 6-8 may use the library between 1.30 pm and 1.55pm.
- The library will, on occasions, be in use for exams, meetings etc. between 1pm and 2pm and so unavailable for pupil use at this time.
- Books may be changed during afternoon registration at the discretion of the Form Tutor.

2   JUNIOR SCHOOL LIBRARY

2.1   ROLE
        The main role of the library in school is:

- To provide resources for the curricular needs of all staff and pupils to support and enrich the activities in the classroom.
- To provide resources for the leisure needs of pupils for use both in school and at home.
- To develop information handling skills.
- To provide a central collection which makes maximum use of resources, avoids unnecessary duplication and creates an awareness of the inter-relatedness of disciplines.

2.2 AIMS

- To engender a love of reading.
- To inform and enrich the lives of pupils and staff.
- To encourage pupils to learn independently by acquiring research skills.

2.3 OBJECTIVES

- To maintain and develop a wide selection of material that is easily accessible and organised.
- To provide a simple borrowing procedure to enable pupils and staff to borrow books independently.
- To develop information handling skills through knowledge of how the library works.
- To involve pupils in the maintenance and organization of the library.

2.4 ORGANISATION

- A member of staff will oversee the running of the library and will be supported by all other staff and some KS2 pupils.
- Subject coordinators recommend suitable books to the Library Coordinator on an annual basis. Books over 10 years of age are removed from the shelves along with any other text which has been well used.
- The Library Coordinator will submit an annual budget bid to the Head. Library skills are taught through learning objectives from the Literacy Strategy.
- Class teachers are responsible for ensuring the library is left tidy after class use.

2.5   CATALOGUE SYSTEM

- The non-fiction books are grouped according to topics. The fiction books are separated into book boxes for emerging readers then separated in rainbow order for more confident readers.

2.5 BOOK BORROWING

- Each class has been allocated a library session. A timetable is posted on the staff noticeboard and on the library door. These times are flexible and may be negotiated in agreement with other staff members.
- The class teacher is responsible for maintaining an accurate record of books borrowed from the library and returned by each pupil.
